

Lightsquared should not be allowed to endanger the integrity of the GPS system; it is too vital to the continued safe operation of the US airspace system to be put in peril.